Victoria University of Wellington, Te Toki a Rata Building, Kelburn campus
CONFERENCE REGISTRATION

The annual conference of the Meteorological Society of New Zealand's will be held in Wellington at Victoria University this year. The conference will cover all aspects of climatology and meteorology, from observations, numerical predictions to research and climate projections.

There will be three presentation options:

1. Poster presentations, with an associated one-minute introduction.
2. Standard oral presentations, of 20-minute duration, including Q/A.
3. Short, Pecha-Kucha type oral presentations, with questions for all speakers at the end of the session.

The number of oral presentations will be limited. In addition, we will have several invited speakers giving keynote presentations.

- 1) Call for Abstracts deadline is 30.09.2019
- 2) Early bird tickets for the conference will be available until (including) 01.10.2019, late bird tickets thereafter.
